

EACH CLASS WILL BE ON WEDNESDAY AT NOON.

Registration for each program will be available 2 weeks prior to the program date on our Eventbrite page, visit go.ncsu.edu/forsyth-eventbrite for details. Registration will close 24 hours prior to the program. If you need assistance with registration, call 336-703-2850.

We plan to hold these programs in-person at Walnut Hall at Tanglewood Park in Clemmons, NC. All registered participants will receive driving directions.

Wednesday, August 10 - The Diversity and Wonder of Seeds

Bill Deck, Forsyth County Extension Master Gardener Volunteer

This presentation will explore the extraordinary diversity of thousands of seeds we find in the plant world. Learn about the wonders of seed germination, seed dispersal, dormancy, diversity, and interesting facts about seeds.

Wednesday, September 14 - Proven Performers in the Landscape

Derek I. Renegar, Urban Forester - City of Winston-Salem

This presentation will focus on trees for use in the landscape, including an overview of a few tree species that will perform well and add interest to your yard or landscape.

Wednesday, October 12 - Carnivorous Plants

Darle Shouse, Forsyth County Extension Master Gardener Volunteer

North Carolina is home to many native carnivorous plants, including the Venus flytrap, the official state carnivorous plant. Learn about some of the carnivorous plants found in NC and how you can include them in your home garden.
